We're moving to substack!!!!

TL;DR:

Newsletter updates are now coming via substack. Sign up at goodgraphicsxyz.substack.com

The longer story:

I really enjoy writing and sending these updates to you all each week but in terms of the authoring and presentation of this content, Patreon isn't the best tool for the job. In the future, I'll probably just build my own platform/solution but for now were moving to substack. The editing tools are better and there is the added benefit that anyone can subscribe and get these updates in their inbox without needing to become a Patron.

So, please sign up again if these updates have been fun for you. I could just drop the entire email list into substack but I don't want to sign y'all up for more if the emails you've been getting from me aren't your thing. If theres any news, I'll send an update via Patreon so don't worry about missing critical things. But I do hope to see you over there :)

From the retreat,

-Mello

P.S. - Wish me luck at the art fair tomorrow!
